

HULL STARTED RUSH FOR LAWS

Iowa Man Introduces Measure Relative To Imitating Articles Of Commerce Without Designating Them As Such.

CORTELYOU SAYS BONDS ARE SOLD

Report Of The Treasurer Made And Appropriations Necessary For Next Year Discussed—Mrs. Ingersoll Wins Suit In The Supreme Court
For $100,000.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Dec. 7.—Patterned after the pure food law, a bill was introduced in the house today by Congressman Hull of Iowa, making it a misdemeanor to manufacture for sale or transportation imitating articles of commerce, unless such articles are branded so as to show their exact ingredients.

Another Move.
By unanimous consent Payne resolved the adoption of a resolution authorizing the committee on Ways and Means in their inquiry into tariff revisions and examine witnesses under oath and to send for necessary records, etc. The resolutions were adopted expressive of the regret of the house at the death of several representatives and Senator Allison and adjourned until tomorrow.

Star's Trouble.
Representative Bailey of Illinois,
today introduced a resolution directing the speaker to appoint a committee of five to "ascertain how much of the forty million which appears on record to have been paid to the French company for the Panama Canal property was really paid to that company."

Bonds Still Well.
Secretary of the Treasury Cortle-
you, today announced that Panama canal bonds had been sold at an average of $1,024,368. There were 159 accepted bids amounting to thirty million dollars.

Much Money Needed.
The Secretary of the Treasury today transmitted to Congress his book of estimates on appropriations of $21,509,000 required for the service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910.
The estimates exceed those for 1909
by $57,901,000.

Given An Ovation.
When Vice President-Elect, Sherman entered the House this morning
he was accorded an ovation by his Republican colleagues.

Commercial Activity.
What may prove an epoch in the commercial development of the south was marked by the opening today of the Southern Commercial Congress at which the resources and industrial possibilities of the south will be discussed.

Won The Suit.
The supreme court today decided in favor of Mrs. Ingersoll in the case of Mrs. Eva A. Ingersoll, widow of the late Robert G. Ingersoll, against Joseph Coram and others.

$100,000 At Stake.
It involved a claim of a hundred thousand dollars by Mrs. Ingersoll on account of services rendered by her husband in breaking the will of the late Andrew J. Davis, the Montana millionaire.

Suit which has been started in the Pennsylvania courts to show the firm using the name are violating the pure food law. Coming as it does upon the heels of the charges that a trust has been formed composed of Elgin and Chicago men to control the prices it is an interesting movement in the produce world. The life of the Elgin board of trade is at stake and the decision will be watched with interest.
The firm upon which the suit is being made is the D. E. Wood Butter Company of Elgin which has a branch establishment at Evansville. The charge is misrepresentation of on the labels of butter in a car load belonging to Uniontown Pa., and the hearing of the case has been set for the May term of court, 1910.

BOSTON BROKER ON TRIAL FOR LARCENY

C. F. King Is Accused Of Having Stolen $25,000 In Indictments Found.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Boston, Mass., Dec. 7.—The case of Charles F. King, under indictment in numerous counts for alleged larceny, was called for trial today in the superior criminal court. King was formerly prominent in the brokerage business in Boston and New York. He disappeared from Boston something over a year ago and in his absence indictments were found against him
charging the larceny of about $25,000.

NEARLY $5,000 IN CHARITY REQUESTS

Left by the Late Dean E. M. McGin-
nity to Various Milwaukee Institutions.
The late Dean E. M. McGinnity left some $4,500 to various charitable institutions in Milwaukee. The House of the Good Shepherd, the Little Sisters of the Poor, St. Rose's orphan asylum, the St. Francis seminary, and the Home for the Aged, are among the beneficiaries.

False Alarm: An alarm was turned in this afternoon at 3:15 by someone who thought the Chinese laundry on West Milwaukee street was on fire.
Steam pouring out of the front door of the building was the nearest approach to a blaze on the premises.

BROWNSVILLE FIGHT IN SUPREME COURT

Case Of Dismissed Negro Soldier Up In Highest Tribunal In The Land.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—The case of the former negro soldier, Oscar Reid, came up for argument in the Supreme Court today. Reid was dismissed from the army, without honour, for alleged participation in the Brownsville affair. His suit is for pay during the time of his enlistment.

APPLES HOW OPENS IN SPOKANE TODAY

Exhibition Was Opened By a Telegraphic Signal, From President Roosevelt.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Spokane, Wash., Dec. 1.—Other crops may wither and fall, but the luscious russet apple will continue to hold its kindly sway throughout the length and breadth of the land. It had its day of glory today with the national opening in this city of the National Apple show, for which preparations have been going forward for months past. The exhibition was opened by a telegraphic signal from President Roosevelt.

The spacious state armory was at first thought large enough to house
the exhibition, but the exhibits were so numerous that several temporary structures were erected to accommodate the overflowing display. Altogether some eighty thousand square feet of floor space has been used. The exhibits include fruit from many parts of the United States and Canada, and from England, Germany, France, Norway and Japan. The show will continue through the entire week. During this time there will be lectures by heads of agricultural departments and meetings under the auspices of various horticultural societies.

The primary purpose of the exhibition, which is the first of its kind,
is to show the value of the apple as
a wholesome food and beautiful fruit,
to demonstrate its manifold uses, together with the value of its by-products, and to stimulate an industry
which already means millions of dollars annually to commercial orchardists in America.

Premiums to the value of $35,000
are to be awarded and there are also twelve prizes consisting of tracts of irrigated fruit lands with perpetual water rights. The largest apple of regular shape, with perfect stem and calyx and without blemish, is to be reproduced in bronze, which will be heavily plated with gold. The reproduction will be given to the grower of the perfect apple. Special prizes also will be awarded to those devising improved methods in the packing of the fruit for shipment.

DIED TODAY IN JUDA FROM HEART FAILURE

Edward Thompson Passes Away Very Suddenly At 8:30 This Morning.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Juda, Dec. 7.—Edward Thompson,
an old resident of Juda, died suddenly
this morning at 8:30 of heart failure.
Mr. Thompson, who has been janitor of the school building for a number of years, was seated in a chair in the principal's office. The principal was out for a minute and when he returned to the room, Mr. Thompson had fallen from his chair to the floor and when picked up he was extinct. Mr.
Thompson was 72 years old at the time of his decease. He was born in Pennsylvania and came to Juda in the early days and was a miller and storekeeper before taking his present position. Mr. Thompson was well liked by all who knew him and he will be sadly missed by his friends. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Miss Lettie Thompson, who teaches school at Monticello. The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon
from the home.

SOUTHERNERS OPEN TWO-DAYS' SESSION

Southern Commercial Congress Meets
In Washington With Large Attendance.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—The Southern Commercial Congress, an outgrowth of the meeting held in Chattanooga last September by the different commercial bodies of the South, opened a two days' session
today at the New Willard hotel
with a display of enthusiasm that augurs well for a successful and interesting session.

The congress is attended by several hundred delegates, all men of high positions in affairs of the nation and their respective states. They come from Virginia and Texas, from Kentucky and Florida, and from the Commonwealths intervening. Among them are men prominent in public life, distinguished educators, presidents of railways, wealthy planters and prominent merchants and manufacturers
all bound together by a common desire for the welfare and development of the south.

The interest that President Roosevelt feels in the congress and its aims is evidenced by his appointment of Secretary of War Wright to represent the administration and to address
the congress on the relation of the Panama Canal to the trade and commerce of the nation. Other scheduled speakers and their subjects are as follows:

"Southern Railroads and Their Needs," John E. Wallace, New York;
"Present and Prospective Educational Progress," Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia; "Ports of the South and Foreign Trade," M. J. Sanders, New Orleans; "Water Courses of the South," John A. Fox, Arkansas; "Water Powers," Frank S. Wadsworth, Nashville, Tenn.; "General Mineral Wealth,"
C. W. Hayes, chief geologist, Washington, D. C.; "Coal Resources," Professor L. C. Glenn, Nashville, Tenn.;
"Iron Resources," E. C. Kelch, Washington, D. C.; "Cotton Monopoly and Cotton Manufacture," Ellison A.
Smith, Delzer, S. C.; "Building Material—Cement, Marble, Clays, Granite," William J. Oliver, Knoxville;
"Timber Resources of the South," John I. Kaul, Birmingham, Ala.; "The Agricultural Revolution," Clarence H.
Doe, Raleigh, N. C.

Prominent participants in the congress, in addition to the foregoing list of speakers, include E. S. Shannon of Nashville, M. D. Przewant of New Orleans, James E. Smith of St. Louis,
J. Grosvenor Davis of Montgomery,
John A. Bejerman of Albany, Ga., J.
R. Arnold of Port Worth, H. H. Richardson of Jacksonville, John A. Patton of Chattanooga, W. G. Cooper of Atlanta, and Edwin L. Quarles of Petersburg, Va.

TWO MEN SUICIDED IN ST. LOUIS TODAY

11, was today granted a reprieve until Jan. 29 by acting Governor Sherman.

TAFT WILL ADDRESS CAROLINA SOCIETY

North Carolina Society Will Banquet
At The Hotel Astor In New York Tonight.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Dec. 7.—President-elect William H. Taft heads the list of speakers for the banquet of the North Carolina Society at the Hotel Astor tonight. It will be Mr. Taft's first public appearance in this city since the November election. Other prominent speakers at the banquet will be President Pinley of the Southern Railway, Hugh Melroe of Wilmington, N. C., James N. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction of North Carolina.

BASEBALL LEADERS HOLDING COUNCIL

National Commission and American and National Leagues Meet In New York This Week.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Dec. 7.—With the air
full of vague rumors and war talk,
the leading spirits in the world of organized baseball held an animated council at the Waldorf-Astoria today,
with side skirmishes at the Victoria and several other hostilities where the magnates of the big and little leagues
are wont to congregate.

It is a good safe bet that baseball history will be made as a result of the several meetings on this week, beginning today with the meeting of the National Commission. The American and National leagues hold their annual meetings here tomorrow, but they promise to be exceedingly tame affairs in comparison with the session of the National Commission, at which will be present a firm demand for some desired changes in the national agreement.

Representatives of the clubs comprising the American Association and Eastern League were early on hand at the Waldorf-Astoria in readiness to confer with the National Commission in regard to the plan formulated at the recent Buffalo conference through which the club owners of these two leagues hope to be placed in a class by themselves where they will be unhampered by the restrictions imposed upon the smaller organizations and, in effect, will place them
on a level with the two major leagues.

Leaders in the American Association and Eastern League affect a feeling of confidence in the result of the conference with the governing body.
Others who are usually pretty well informed as to the situation do not believe that the two "rebel" organizations are likely to have much an-easy time gaining their demands.
They point out that the changes demanded would destroy the very foundation of the national agreement and consequently are not likely to be given any very serious consideration by the National Commission. Some are inclined to believe that the two big minors may kick over the traces if their demands are refused, but the majority opinion inclines to the belief that there will be no baseball war
for the reason that the heads of the American Association and Eastern League are among the best experienced men in baseball today and none
loves better the fact that has invariably pursued outlaw baseball organizations.

BICYCLISTS BREAK RECORD IN RACES

The Leading Teams in the Six-Day
Race Are Two Miles and Two Laps Ahead of the Distance.
Traveled in the Same Time
In Previous Years.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Dec. 7.—At 9 o'clock today the leading teams in the six-day
international bicycle race had made 205 miles, 50 laps or two miles and thirty more than the best previous record.

CONGRESS CONVENED, NEW MEMBERS TOOK THE OATH

Both Houses Then Adjourned Until Tomorrow
As Mark Of Respect To Deceased Members.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—The Sixtieth Congress assembled for its final session today, the opening being attended by formalities and scenes varying little from similar occasions
in the past. The first day of a session never develops much of interest to those used to attending sessions of congress, but no other day seems to possess greater charm for the average citizen. The opening today proved no exception to the rule.

The crowds came early and long before the noon hour the galleries of both the Senate and House were filled.
The presence of an unusual number of visitors from out of town resulted in a great demand for tickets. In the galleries were many gayly dressed women whose presence added much to the brilliancy of the scene. Members of the diplomatic corps and many other notables also were in attendance.
Senators and Representatives were early on hand and in the corridors
and on the floors of both chambers
there was much good-natured bantering among the victors and vanquished
in the November elections.

The opening of the session in the Senate was without incident. The appearance of Vice President Fairbanks was the signal for a hearty round of applause from both members and the gallery. Immediately following the prayer of the chaplain, Dr. Edward Everett Hale, the roll was called by Stutes, Albert H. Cummins, the successor of the late Senator Allison of Iowa, was applauded when the oath

was taken.

The opening of the session in the House was attended by scenes of greater activity than those witnessed in the upper branch. A round of applause swept through the gallery
when Speaker Cannon appeared on the rostrum and mapped for order.

The following members-elect of the House immediately after the conclusion of the roll call took the oath prescribed for members of Congress:
O. C. Wiley, of the Second district of Alabama; George A. Barnhart, of the Thirteenth district of Indiana; Albert Estephal, of the First district of Louisiana; John P. Swamey, of the Second district of Maine; Frank E.
Guernsey, of the Fourth district of Maine; Eben W. Martin, Representative-at-large from North Dakota, and Otton G. Foellmer, of the Fourth district of New York.

Shortly after one o'clock both the Senate and House, as a mark of respect to the deceased members, adjourned until tomorrow, when the annual message of President Roosevelt will be read.

RAILWAY COMMISSION RAPS ALL THE PUBLIC UTILITIES

Would Have Law Passed Compelling Them To Give Up Their Franchises.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Dec. 7.—The report
of all existing electric, light, water,
telephone, gas and other public utility franchises is recommended by the Wisconsin railroad commission in its annual report filed with Governor Davidson today.
The commission recites how some 50
companies gave up their local franchises, under the law passed by the last legislature relieving in lieu thereof an indeterminate franchise which provides that the city may buy plant by payment of a sum fixed by the railroad commission.
The commission then recommends that this surrender of local franchises
and receipt of indeterminate permit be made compulsory instead of voluntary.

The report deals with all matters handled by commission during last fiscal year, about 3,000 separate matters.

Discrimination is still general in Wisconsin, utility plants says the report. 64.8 per cent. of all telephone,
water, gas, and electric companies
having discriminatory rates, even after thousands of cases of rate discrimination had been eliminated by the commission.

Legislation placing all electric and steam railway and highway crossings
under the jurisdiction of the commission is recommended, also that it be a punishable offense to seek of a railroad any rebate or other favor.

FEDERAL CHURCHES RESUMED SESSIONS

council of the churches of Christ in America resumed their business meetings today with a varied and interesting program.

LARGE BANK CLOSED IN MISSOURI TODAY

National Exchange Bank In Springfield By The Comptroller of the Currency.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Springfield, Mo., Dec. 7.—The National Exchange Bank one of the largest financial institutions of the city, was closed today by direction of the comptroller of the currency. According to the last bank report it had deposits of $2,100,000.

BELOIT CARPENTER ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

John C. Dorr Turned On Gas and Tried To Kill Himself Last Night.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., Dec. 7.—John C. Dorr,
a carpenter, in Beloit, by Cunningham Bros., was found in bed this morning almost unresponsive. The case let wide open when he was found. Had he remained undisturbed much longer
he would have died. The friends and neighbors of the man believe that it is a case of attempted suicide. It is understood that he seemed queer yesterday and indulged rather freely
in it. It is thought that he retired late and then made an attempt at suicide.

of the school year began at the high school this morning. Examinations were held last week on Thursday and Friday. The program of classes has not been entirely adjusted as yet but will be within a few days.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR THE TEMPLARS

Attended the Presbyterian Church Last Evening and Listened to a Talk on Temperance.

There was a goodly sized congregation at the First Presbyterian church last evening to hear J. M. Skinner, Grand Chief Templar, of Wisconsin lecture on "Temperance." The members of People's lodge, Janesville, occupied seats in the front of the church. The lecturer said that 241,000 saloons in the United States were responsible for the loss of 100,000 lives each year; 60,000 died from the effects of drink, and there were about 40,000 indirect victims each year. The saloon was opposed to good government and led to most of the crimes. There were nearly 10,000 murders each year and Chicago, in a recent year had 187 murders while London had 25, Paris 15, and Berlin only 6 that year. We had 120 murders in a nation inhabited each year. Germany had 5 to a million and Canada had 3. The difference was due to two things: First, our general lawlessness or lack of respect for law, and the method of drinking.

Reference was made to the fact that Janesville had fifty-three saloons. The speaker ridiculed the idea of raising revenue from the saloon business. It was like the story Artemus Ward told of a man who was making money by raising hogs. He bought a pig for three dollars, then bought ten dollars worth of feed, ultimately selling the hog for twelve dollars and taking the profit. Mr. Skinner pointed out the city got $25,000 from the saloons in Janesville, but if these saloons took in the average amount of an American saloon there would be about $124,000 spent in order to raise the small amount received. How much better it would be to spend the $124,000 upon other things which would employ far more labor and make business better all around.

A cordial invitation was given to all who were present to join its local branch of the Good Templar order. Excellent music was rendered by the choir and a liberal offering was made to promote temperance work in the Rock river district.

FORMER BELOIT WOMAN DEMENTED AND CONFINED IN CHICAGO HOSPITAL

Detectives Call on Chief Appleby to Assist Them in Search for Relatives of Margaret LaMont.

Chicago detectives are trying to ascertain the whereabouts of relatives of Margaret LaMont, divorced wife of M. L. Jenkins who was formerly superintendent of the Fairbanks-Morse Mfg. Co.'s plant in Beloit, as she is in a demented condition and confined in the detention hospital. Chief of Detectives O'Brien communicated with Chief of Police George M. Appleby by telephone, asking for information regarding the present residence of Mr. Jenkins. The latter made inquiries in Beloit but was unable to learn anything definite beyond the fact that the former husband of the woman took a position in Harvey, Illinois, immediately after leaving the Lino City.

MAKE HASTE SLOWLY.

Young man:
Ever note a slow moving freight train pulling on an uphill grade? If you are some distance away the train may appear to be making no progress. But it is inching along. After awhile you look. The train has disappeared over the hill.

Be like that freight train.

Be a stayer.

"Make haste slowly" is an excellent old adage that is workable. It may seem you are getting on in the world all too slowly. But, if you are really getting on, hold tight! In the end you will win.

Watch that sailing vessel loaded to the guards with lumber. It looks like "a painted ship on a painted ocean."

Well, that schooner was loaded up Green Bay way. Here it is in mid-lake. Go down to the harbor in a day or two. A little tug will be grappling that slow going vessel to convey it up the river to the big lumber yards. It will have arrived.

Be like that sailing vessel.

Keep going.

It is quite certain that during the voyage the schooner will have to be tacked this way and that in order to get across the big waters. But it will never stand still. And it will keep moving in the general direction of Chicago.

So you in your sailing course may be obliged sometimes to tack. That sort of sailing will be slow. Nevertheless bend your sails to the freshening breeze. Keep your vessel headed in the general direction of your destiny—and keep going.

Learn to labor and to WAIT.

Do not grow impatient. Move forward. However little, move forward. Move slowly, carefully, SURELY. If the get-rich-quick sprinters try to pass you, let them. In the long run—in the long run, mind you—if you hold out faithfully, you will get there. And some of the sprinters may not get there.

If at the end of the week you have saved a dollar, HANG ON TO IT. He who saves only a little—regularly saves—over what he earns is on the direct road to success.

If at the end of the week you have learned some important thing about your business, HANG ON TO IT. You are making progress. Keep on.

And—
Some day when you have succeeded you will look back over the road and see how straight was the road and how narrow the way by which you came.

DETECTIVE CASEY WORKING ON CASE

C. M. & St. P. Officer is Investigating Circumstances of Attempt to Wreck Train Near Milton.

Patrick Henry Casey of the C. M. & St. P. Co.'s detective bureau, is here from Milwaukee to investigate the recent bold attempt to wreck a passenger train by piling loose ties on the track, near far from Milton Junction. He is following several promising clues and the guilty parties will undoubtedly be landed. Detective Casey was in this city Saturday night but left for Edgerton yesterday.

Christmas Phonographs

While New Yorkers are listening to Grand Opera at the rate of $3.00 to $10.00 per seat, you can have the same entertainment, Grand Opera, in your own home at a cost so low you won't notice it at all.

Furthermore, if you tire of Grand Opera before the evening is half spent you can switch off to vaudeville or rag-time at your own convenience. You can float away on the tones of the Edison Phonograph or be brought face to face with the most famous operatic and dramatic stars of the day, through the possession of the wonderful Phonograph which plays everything worth playing from the famous compositions of Beethoven and Mozart to the latest rag-time hit, including also all of the latest vocal artists such as Caruso, Melba, Scotti, Seimbrich, Tetrazzini, and others.

The cost is so small in comparison with the amount of entertainment you receive that you will readily realize the advantage of having a phonograph in your home.

Proof is better than discussion and just one minute of inspection will do more towards proving to you the merits of the Phonograph than an hour of talk.

SHOP SURROUNDINGS.

Employee of Plant: Combining Beauty and Commercialism.

The appearance of many towns and cities is spoiled by unkempt surroundings of business sites, and seldom is any attempt made to improve and beautify these places. The plan is being tried in Brooklyn, N. Y., however, to interest the employees of a company in improvement work, and the story of how an esprit de corps came to replace a don't care feeling in the personnel of one of the largest single traction concerns in the country is an interesting one.

Some time ago the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company adopted a policy of beautifying as far as possible the different portions of its property. It was a pet idea of Mr. Winter, its president, that the mere fact that a structure is built for commercial purposes is no excuse for its being hideously ugly.

This was quite a reversal of old traditions, but it has already gone partly into effect. The great new Williamsburg power station is the company's most striking exposition of this new policy.

Beginning was made at the construction shop of the elevated lines at the foot of Thirty-ninth street. The yard that surrounds this shop—formerly a passenger terminal station—was cleaned of the litter of old locomotives and discarded coaches. These were sold when possible and given away for firewood in other cases.

Last spring the shop foremen were informed that the railroad would proceed to lay out the edge of the yard with grass plots and flower beds. Similar steps were taken at the other elevated shops at East New York, Fresh Pond road and at Thirty-sixth street. The same methods of decoration that proved so successful on the company's property at Brighton Beach were put in effect.

Then came the surprising part of the programme. Shopmen displayed an astonishing amount of interest in the plans for beautifying the property. They organized into bands and early on summer nights reported after hours for work on the shop grounds. There was entirely a voluntary procedure. They showed an interest in the whole project. It was a new spirit showing itself.

Nor was that all. The men from lathe and plan and drill press worked alongside the laborers, and then they got together with the shop foremen and made a new proposal.

"Let's buy big flags—big, fine American flags—to float over every shop of this company and show folks when they go riding by that there are good Americans working under the roof."

So the big movement started. The men all wanted to subscribe—nickels, dimes and an occasional quarter were the order of the day—and when they were done, the foremen topped off the list, for the big flags. The railroad company, put up high steel poles, and there has been a series of flag raisings all summer.

Every elevated shop now flies its flag as regularly as a military post. Out at the newest shop—the Fresh Pond road—the transportation men watched the big pole and flag of the shopmen ascend. So the guards, motormen and conductors of the trains running there bought a flag and had the company erect a second steel pole for their flag. Other plans of the same sort are under way.

The Billboard Fight.

An ordinance which is expected to force billboards from the residence districts was recently approved by the Chicago council building committee. It requires billboard companies to secure consent of two-thirds of the property owners on both sides of the street before erecting a billboard in any block in the residence district. Any block in which a majority of the lots are occupied by residences is to be considered, for the purpose of the ordinance, a residence neighborhood. Strong protests were made by the representatives of the billboard companies when the ordinance was first considered by the building committee, but no further objections were made at the time of its approval, energy being reserved for action later, but it is believed that this ordinance will eventually drive the billboard from residence districts.

School Gardens.

All the available space not needed for play should be put into school gardens, and if the school grounds prove of insufficient extent an effort should be made to obtain the use of a vacant lot nearby. Each child should have a plot for its own and should be protected in such ownership. Not only must the children be taught to respect and protect the rights of others. So general has become the interest in school gardens that it is now possible in many states to get teachers trained in the work. Children should not be deprived of playtime, but every encouragement should be lent to carry some of the work on in the home garden and there or at the schoolyard do certain garden work on Saturdays.

Local Retailers Meet Prices.

Do the catalogue houses sell goods cheaper than the retail dealers do? No, they do not—they cannot and make a profit, and they are in it for the profit and nothing else. The price of some of the pictured articles in the catalogue is less than it can be sold by the retailer and make a profit. These are leaders—steel pigeons to draw the flock to the trap. You will find that any live retail merchant is ready and willing to meet the catalogue prices when the quality of goods is considered.

OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN IN A CHARACTERISTIC ATTITUDE.

New York.—Oscar Hammerstein has a habit of getting into the papers almost as much as some of our presidential candidates, but this time he is before the public in an unique manner. He is being sued for $100,000 damages by Miss Pamela Lee because he did not make a star of her as he had promised. The technical charge is breach of contract.

Miss Lee was many years looked upon as one of Mr. Hammerstein's leading singers and was known as the "Texas Path." Such critics as John Philip Sousa pronounced her a remarkable singer. It seems that Mr. Hammerstein told and wrote her to the effect that he would make a star of her if she would let him be her manager. She trusted him implicitly and a deep friendship grew up between the two which lasted for several years. At the end of this time Miss Lee found she was not a star and that she had lost the best years of her life, when she claims she could have made herself internationally famous.

This case presents a rather unique phase of contract and it will be for the courts to decide whether it was possible for a star and whether he is legally liable for not having done so.

CHRISTMAS SUGGESTIONS—TRAVELING CASE.

MATERIALS
One-third yard linen, 85¢ yard.
One-quarter yard rubber cloth, 75¢ yard.
Six skeins embroidery cotton, 5¢ skein.
Four yards navy satin ribbon at 20¢ yard.
Traveling case made of even linen and bound in navy blue satin ribbon. Cut a straight piece of linen 12 inches wide and 27 inches long; line double nine inches from one end with rubber cloth. Fasten one side of rubber cloth to case and other side to inside lining to form rubber pocket. Feather stitch four apartments with navy blue cotton, and outline on each pocket one of the following: toothbrush and nail file, blind edges and seams of case with navy blue ribbon, two inches wide. Center of case is used for hairbrushes. Brush pockets to be made of navy blue ribbon, large enough to slip in brush and hold tightly. The upper third laps over to hold case in shape, and on the inside is embroidered "A Pleasant Journey." The case is fast together with navy blue ribbon, and initial is embroidered on corner of outside lap.
If (12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100) inches long, an oval far more desirable square channels on a handkerchief leaving the side open to REQUIRED.
A very pretty fan-bag can be made of one yard of wide ribbon, by folding ribbon together and tucking sides with French knots. Make a wide heading at top and slip in a drawing of narrow ribbon.
Embroider a monogram on a nine-inch piece of satin ribbon and buttonhole both ends of the ribbon, for a book mark.
Telephone Pad.
Cover a heavy cardboard with even linen, outline across the top in red silk, "Calla." Paste blank pad in center.
For light waists and evening coats, gather wide, fancy ribbon over a coat hanger, stuff with cotton and sacret. Cover the advertising on a box of talcum powder with ribbon, making a large bow on one side.
A hanging place cushion made of a small 5¢ doll and a half yard of wide ribbon. Gather both ends of ribbon around neck of doll, tie tightly with baby ribbon and leave a small loop for hanging. Stuff ribbon with navy blue and catch sides together with French knots, made very closely together. Put black and white plus in cushion. In little circles, squares and oval shape.

EDGERTON.

Edgerton, Dec. 7.—The funeral of Mr. Sylvester Walrath, an old resident of the town of Fulton, and lately of Edgerton, was held here on Saturday afternoon and was very largely attended by relatives and friends. His sons, Orvel Walrath and wife, and Clarence, of Mitchell, S. D., and Arthur, of Minneapolis, were present. Mr. J. and H. S. McGiffin, nephews, and Mrs. Geo. Chaso, a niece, of Janesville, and the Misses Eliza and Kittie Crank of Milton also attended. Mr. Frank Richardson of Geneva preached the funeral sermon and interment was made in Fasset cemetery.
The second of the series of K. P. dancing parties was given in Academy hall, Friday evening. About eighty couples were in attendance and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

BUTTER AND OLEOMARGARINE

The Chicago Evening Post contains the following interesting statement concerning the fight in Congress over the much discussed tax on Oleomargarine. It is significant to note that the State of Minnesota, something of a dairy state, is to lead in the fray. The Post says:

"Congress is to become the battleground between the butter-makers and the oleomargarine manufacturers this winter. It became known today that a vigorous fight is to be put up in both houses of the national legislature for the removal of the federal embargo on butterine production.

"No sooner blow than this could be directed at the interests seeking to control the butter market of the country. Fabulous prices for this universal household commodity have, it is universally conceded, been the direct result of the strength marshaled by the butter producers in crushing out competition.

"In the face of federal statutes placing a tax of 10 cents a pound on all colored oleomargarine manufactured—a law that puts no restraint on butter manufacturers—practically all of whom make use of the same coloring materials—it has taken the industry more than ten years to return to the magnitude of business done before the law was enacted."

MINNESOTA TO TAKE LEAD.
"It is said that Minnesota has taken the lead in the fight to lower the bars of legitimate competition. The measure to rescind the former law is expected to be introduced into both Senate and House by the representatives of that state. That the movement is not localized to any district. Many other states are declared to be in the movement, and Congressman Lorimer is understood to be on the firing line for Illinois.

Fancy prices for butter may or may not be forced upon the consumer by the controlling interests early this winter—that issue seems to have been clouded by the unexpected show of resistance made by the public at the first suggestion that such a program was in contemplation—but the stability of unwarrantable quotations on butter at any season of the year are seriously threatened by this contemplated action.

Alarmed at the prospect of having this drop rudely thrust out from under them, the butter interests at once made preparation to rally to the defense of the position they at present enjoy. The farmers of the country are to be called upon to fight a legislative attack that threatens to reduce the profits of the dairy business and "demoralize" the butter trade.

WOULD MEAN A DROP IN PRICES.
While it is conceded that gastronomically there is a difference between good butter and oleomargarine in favor of good butter, and also in favor of good oleomargarine as compared with bad butter, it is recognized on all hands that a removal of the embargo placed on the manufacture of oleomargarine would be followed by a big slump in the price of butter of all grades, possibly a drop of 6 or 7 cents a pound.

The argument that this would be to the advantage of all consumers, while in addition the masses of the "moderately well-to-do" would be enabled to purchase a produce acknowledged to be a figure not above 50 cents a pound the year around, is the object also said to have given force to the movement to restore oleomargarine to a basis of fair competition with butter.

The national legislators showed in the passage of the original act that they had no particular love for the oleomargarine people, but discontent on the part of consumers and the evidence that the statute hit the latter while aiming at the former, is believed to favor the prospects of the present attack.

MUTTER MEN INVITE NEW ATTACKS.

The butter interests, in their attempt to keep in full force the numerous statutes that have been enacted to "slug the butterin' industry," as Health Commissioner Evans expressed it, seem to have been getting the worst of the contest in several directions of late.

Yesterday Judge Landis handed down a decision that undermines the effectiveness of the law curtailing oleomargarine manufacture in Illinois. At the same time the constitutionality of the law was brought into question by state authorities, as appeared in The Evening Post. This is in line with the developments in New York, where a few months ago the Supreme Court of the state declared invalid the law against butterine manufacture.

The New York court found that the law in that state "prohibited an important branch of industry for the sole reason that it competes with another and may reduce the price of an article of food for the human race."

BILLY SUNDAY.

Billy Sunday, the Evangelist, has been criticised severely for unorthodoxy and for the use of slang in the pulpit. He recently held a series of meetings at Des Moines, Iowa, and the Tribune of that city quotes from one of his sermons what it terms a masterpiece of pulpit eloquence. The paper adds that he should not be judged without hearing him. This is what he said in speaking of his personal experience:

"Twenty-two years ago, with the Holy Spirit as my guide, I entered this wonderful temple called Christendom. I entered at the portico of Genesis, walked down through the old testament art gallery where the pictures of Noah, Abraham, Moses, Joseph, Isaac, Jacob, Daniel hung on the wall; I passed into the music room of Psalms, where the spirit swept the keyboard of nature and brought forth dirge-like wail of the weeping prophet Jeremiah to the grand impassioned strains of Isaiah, until it seemed that every word and pipe in God's great organ of nature responded to the tuneful harp of David, the sweet singer of Israel.

I entered the chapel of Ecclesiastes where the voice of the preacher was heard and into the conservatory of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley's sweet scented spices filled and perfumed my life. I entered the business office of Proverbs, then into the observatory room of the prophets where I saw telescopes of various sizes, some pointing to far-off events; but all concentrated upon this bright and morning star, which was to rise above the moonlit hills of Judea for our salvation.

I entered the audience room of the King of Kings, and caught a vision of His glory from the standpoint of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John; passed into the Acts of the Apostles where the Holy Spirit was doing his infant work in the formation of the infant church. Then into the correspondence room where sat Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, Paul, Peter, James and Jude, pouring their epistles. I stepped into the throne room of Revelations, where all towered into glittering peaks, and I got a vision of the King sitting upon His throne in all His glory; and I cried:

"All hail the power of Jesus' name, Let angels prostrate fall; Bring forth the royal diadem, And crown Him Lord of all!"

"This is word painting as choice as it is rare, and if the man who produced it will devote more time to this kind of work, prejudice against him would rapidly vanish.

COUNTING THE PIGEONS.

The man who bought the Masonic Temple, was in attendance at the stock show in Chicago last week, and made another investment.

While counting the pigeons which were being fed in front of the public library he was arrested and marched off to the lockup. While protesting he met a judge to whom he told his story.

"Counting the pigeons were you? How many were there?" said the judge.

"Only seventeen," was the reply. "Well the fine is usually $5 a bird, but as this is your first offense we will call it $17."

The money was paid and now the victim is telling how he beat the judge out of $20, as he counted 37 pigeons.

The Pacific Coast extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road is nearing completion and will be ready for traffic about the middle of June. The total cost is around $80,000,000, which is less than at first estimated. The longest tunnel through the mountains is more than a mile and a half. The line when completed will be one of the best across the continent.

Congress convened today and the session which closes the first of March, promises more in the way of talk, than business. The possible deficit of $100,000,000 for the fiscal year, calls for a general cutting down in appropriations, as well as adopting some policy to increase the revenue. Action on the tariff will doubtless go over to the extra session, which is likely to convene soon after Taft's inauguration.

The latest recruits to the Annandale Club are Delavan Smith editor of the Indianapolis News, and W. M. Laffan of the New York Sun. The president discovers that they are not only undesirable citizens, but mendacious ones. The newspaper fraternity might possibly furnish a larger representation should the president find trouble in filling up the ranks.

The first batch of letters received from Congressmen by the Colliers, in their campaign against Uncle Joe Cannon, were so favorable to the speaker that the publishers will wait indefinitely before printing any more.

The great national weekly is discovering that it has assumed a large contract in attempting to regulate the universe.

HOLIDAY HANDKERCHIEFS

Visit the Handkerchief Booth in our North Store. HERE can be seen our Entire Stock of Handkerchiefs, including $2,000 worth bought especially for the Holidays. The Exclusive Styles are here. The Extra Qualities are here. Easily an assortment that for size, wide range of prices, and newness of the patterns, towers far above any collection The Big Store has heretofore shown, which means much.

AT 3c, 5c, 10c Our line of cotton Handkerchiefs includes the smaller sizes for children, also the larger sizes for men and women. We show them in plain white, hemstitched borders as well as the pretty colored borders, all over designs, also with lace edges and corners, in an endless number of styles.

ALL LINEN HANDKERCHIEFS—We show the all linen handkerchiefs as low as 10c, other numbers at 12½c, 15c, 19c and up 25c is the most popular selling price. We show an unusually strong line at this price. Some of the popular styles are as follows: Plaited and all over embroidery, imitation Armenian lace edges, linen handkerchiefs with two and three rows of half inch insertion, all made in Ireland; plain white hemstitched hem, colored hems and colored all over designs.

AT 25c and 50c—A beautiful line of dainty sheer white handkerchiefs, with colored embroidery and colored hems. This assortment represents some of the best things from one of New York's leading importers. To give you an idea of how scarce they are, we placed our order for them last February to be made especially for us and they were delivered for Xmas selling.

Armenian lace handkerchiefs 50c, 75c, 85c, $1.00.

Hand embroidered handkerchiefs, 50c.

Embroidered linen handkerchiefs at 50c to $3.

DUTCH LACE HANDKERCHIEFS—These handkerchiefs always appeal to ladies or gentlemen who want to give an especially dainty present. We show them as low as $1.25 with pretty edges and neat corners. Other excellent creations in these hand made handkerchiefs at $1.50, $1.85, $2, $3, $4, $5, $6.

CHILDREN'S BOX HANDKERCHIEFS (3 in a box)—Exceptionally good ones in white and color effects at 15c, also one lot of white with colored initials hemstitched at 25c, and a fine hemstitched embroidered initial of pure linen at 25c per box of three.

We have the all linen initial handkerchiefs for women and men, at 15c and 25c. No better values are shown.

Substantial white fine hemstitched all linen handkerchiefs for women or men we make a specialty of. Positively better values than you can find elsewhere. We know this after years of experience in comparing the leading imported makes.

IT PAYS TO LOOK WELL TO THE QUALITY

FOR MEN—An unusually large line of handkerchiefs, plain and fancy, at 5c, 10c, 12½c, 15c, 20c, 25c, 50c.

AT 25c the line includes pretty novelties in bar and plaid effects and colored dots and figures.

AT 50c the line includes the sheer bar and hemstitched designs, fine edges.

SILK HANDKERCHIEFS—The white Japs at 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00.

In the colored silk novelties we have the Pongee dainty soft silk finish at 15c, something new.

All silk narrow and wide hemstitched in light and dark styles, at 25c and 50c.

WE MAKE SPECIAL PRICES BY THE DOZEN. You can save much time by visiting our Handkerchief booth, as selections can be made quickly and you have the largest assortment in Janesville to select from.

WHAT IS PAIN?

Pain is an unpleasant sensation transmitted to the brain center by the nerves when the normal conditions of any part of the body are disturbed.

The nerves act as a live wire. Decision the nerve and it is powerless to transmit sensations.

There is the secret of painless dentistry.

By the use of a harmless agent, I am able to put to sleep all the nerves around the tooth for a short time. I can promise anyone who is at all timid about their dentistry that I can save you nine-tenths of the pain usually endured.

Next time you go by, drop in and let me tell you more in regard to my methods and prices.

ANDY ENGBERTSON*FOUND DEAD IN BED AT UNION HOUSE

When Charles Raash, A Friend, Called To See Him At Nine O'clock Last Evening.

Andy Engbertson, a tailor by trade, resided early at the Union House last evening and Charles Raash, a shoemaker employed at the Golden Eagle store, found him dead in his bed when he called at the room about nine o'clock. Mr. Raash was so badly frightened that he hastened away without saying a word, after one glance at the fearful expression of the dead man's features, but the clerk who had accompanied him thither immediately sent for Dr. W. D. Morrill. The latter, upon examination, found that life had ebbed sometime before the two men had arrived on the scene and that death was undoubtedly due to some form of heart disease.

Mr. Engbertson was afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism and went to the hospital for treatment about a month ago, remaining there, however, only a few days. He came here some time ago from Joliet and was employed for a short period at the Golden Eagle store. About four weeks ago he went to board at the home of Mrs. Martha Howard on Dodge street. Last Thursday night he reached his room at a late hour and before morning other boarders discovered that a guest there had been left turned on. The door, however, was open so there was no foundation for any theory of attempted suicide. The next day the occupant of the room was found dead in his bed. The deceased was about 65 years of age and is said to have come to this country from Norway about 30 years ago. His wife, from whom he had separated some years ago, is living in Deloit and a son, Edward Engbertson, is yardmaster for the C. & N. St. P. Ry. Co. in the Line City. The remains were taken to Nelson's undertaking rooms and arrangements for the funeral will probably be made today.

MILWAUKEE PRESS CLUB HAS ISSUED ITS ANNUAL BOOKLET

Once A Year Full Of Interesting Newspaper Stories Makes Its Appearance.

The members of the Milwaukee Press Club have issued a handsome 1908 number of their publication, "Once A Year," which consists of articles of fiction and fact. The purpose of the publication, it is explained, is to afford an opportunity to the young men who are daily grinding out the grist of news to soar upon the plumes of fancy and color events to suit themselves, unfettered by the hard facts of life.

The publication, which was run off the presses of the Evening Wisconsin, is typographically and artistically most pleasing. It is full of local hints, of satirical judges, and of bright stories signed by the various writers for the press. Most of the yarns are designed to give the public an intimate view of the work of newspaper-making.

Most of the art work in the magazine was furnished by students of the Wisconsin School of Art, the cover design having been drawn by its president, Professor Alexander Mueller. The editors of this year's number were Dean D. Kirkham and E. J. Williamson.

FIND WOMAN'S WIT UNCERTAIN.

As When This Wife Failed to Appreciate Her Husband's Pleasantry.

"Don't always rely upon the ready wit of a woman," said the man who is sometimes pleased to consider himself an oracle. "That ready wit business is sometimes prone to get away off."

"For example, my wife and children had been staying in the country for several weeks and I was regular with my letters, as every loving husband should be. Finally on the day before my wife was to start for home I concluded my letter to her with these words:

"This will be the last letter I will write to you for a long, long time."

"When I got down to my office the next morning I found a telegram from my wife waiting for me. 'What on earth do you mean?' read the dispatch."

"Later a registered letter came from her. She had blotted almost every line with tears. What it was all about I could not imagine."

"Then my telephone bell rang, and when I answered I heard my wife's voice speaking over the long distance phone."

"Oh, John," said she, "is that really you? I thought you had committed suicide!"

NEW ZEALAND'S WHITE ISLAND.

Always Enveloped in Clouds of Steam—Its Strange Lakes.

White Island, in Australia, derives its name from the clouds of white steam in which it appears to be continually enveloped. Its area is only 600 acres, and its height about 850 feet above the sea level.

In form and color it is like a reposing camel, while its interior with its gray, weather-beaten, almost perpendicular cliffs, recalls the Coliseum at Rome. Overhanging the southern landing place stands a column of rock closely resembling a ventricle, which has been dedicated to the memory of Capt. Cook. The water of the island is of a pale green hue, and anything dipped into it becomes of a red brick color. The fumes of sulphur are always plainly perceptible.

On a fine moonlight night a wonderful sight is afforded to any one who will sit in an open boat in one of the lakes of the island. Covering an area of 50 acres is an immense cauldron hissing and snorting and sending forth volumes of poisonous steam, while all chances of egress appear to be denied by the steep, silent and gloomy cliffs.

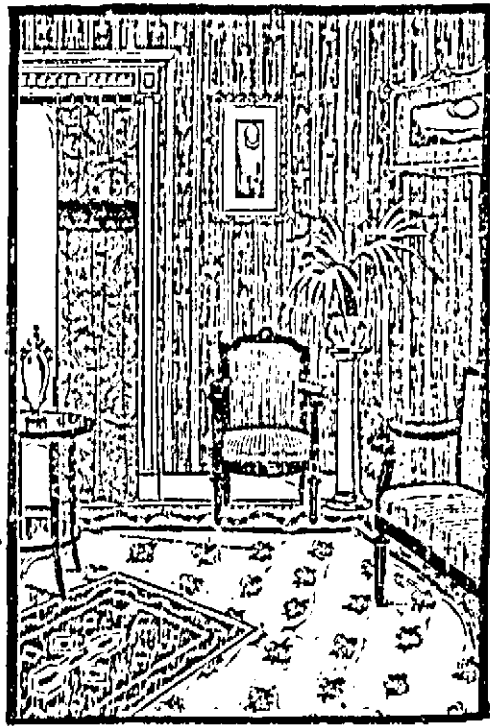

English Etiquette.
"Mr. and Mrs." is something that never appears on an invitation or visiting card in England. Invitations are issued by the mistress of the house, and the husband invariably has his card and the wife hers. The names of the daughters may appear on the mother's card of invitation.

LAWMAKERS MEET

Congress Convenes for Its Second Session.

NEW MEMBERS ARE SWORN IN

Both Houses Then Adjourn Out of Respect for the Dead and Will Reassemble Tuesday to Hear President Roosevelt's Last Message.

Washington, Dec. 7.—With Vice-President Fairbanks in his chair in the senate and Speaker Cannon presiding over the house, the Sixtieth congress met promptly at noon Monday for its second session.

Practically no business was transacted in either house Monday. In the senate ex-Gov. Cummins of Iowa took oath of office as the successor of Senator Allison of that state, as did Carroll S. Page of Vermont as the successor of Senator Stewart.

Seven New Representatives.

In the house the seven members who were elected in November to succeed members who have died or resigned in that body also were sworn in. They are: Henry A. Barnhart (Dem.), who succeeds the late Mr. Brick (Rep.) from the Thirtieth Indiana district; Albert H. Stephens (Dem.), who succeeds the late Mr. Meyer from the First Louisiana district; Otto G. Foulker (Rep.), successor to Mr. Dunwell (Rep.), in the Third New York district; Frank E. Guernsey (Rep.), successor to Mr. Powers (Rep.), from the Fourth Maine district; Eben M. Masters (Rep.), successor to Mr. Parker (Rep.), from South Dakota, at large; O. C. Wiley (Dem.), successor to his brother, A. A. Wiley (Dem.), from the Second Alabama district; and John P. Swaney (Rep.), successor to Mr. Littlefield, who resigned during the last session from the Second Maine district.

The two houses then appointed committees each to notify the other house and the president that the two bodies were organized and prepared to go forward with the business of the session. The senate then adjourned for the day out of respect to the memory of Senator Allison, who died during the recess. The house also formulated its brief session with resolutions commemorative of the lives of Messrs. Parker, South Dakota; Wiley, Alabama; Dunwell, New York; and Powers, Maine, who have died since adjournment last May.

President's Message Tuesday. Tuesday will be given up by both houses to the reading of the president's message. As this is the last annual message which President Roosevelt will send to congress, there is unusual interest in it. The general report is that it will prove to be a conservative and carefully prepared document, and it is not believed that a great many recommendations for legislation along new lines will be ventured upon by the president.

It is expected that the house will begin Wednesday morning with the consideration of the bill providing the means for the taking of the thirteenth census. This bill was pending when congress adjourned in May, and there will be an effort to get it through both houses before the Christmas-Jolliday recess in order that preparations for the numbering of the people in 1910 shall be begun as speedily as possible.

Towney to Report Soon. It is the expectation of Mr. Towney, chairman of the committee on appropriations, that his committee will be prepared to report the bill making appropriation for the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the government before the end of the week, and its consideration will be begun at the first practical moment.

The senate has no special order for the week except for the delivery of addresses on Saturday in honor of the memory of the late Senator Proctor, and it is probable that only brief daily sessions will be held. For next week the senate has agreed to take up the bill for the establishment of postal savings banks and Senator Foraker's bill authorizing the re-enlistment of the negro soldiers who were discharged from the army without honor on account of the Brownsville riot of 1900.

MR. TAFT LEAVES RESORT.

President-Elect and His Wife Depart from Hot Springs.

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 7.—The president-elect and Mrs. Taft, Secretary Carpenter and the entire office force took their final departure from Hot Springs Sunday night. Judge Taft proceeded direct to New York where Monday night he will be the guest of honor and principal orator at the dinner of the North Carolina society at the Hotel Astor.

Mrs. Taft will go to the residence of Miss Mabel Boardman in Washington where Mr. Taft will return Tuesday to remain during the week. He will then spend a few days in New York before going to Augusta, Ga., for an extended sojourn.

Noted Tasmanian Drowned.

London, Dec. 7.—Alfred Dobson, general agent for Tasmania in London, while crossing the channel from Boulogne to Folkestone on Saturday was drowned. His death is believed to have been accidental. Dobson was born in 1848. He was at different times speaker of the Tasmanian assembly, attorney general and solicitor general.

GEN. SIMON PROCLAIMS HIMSELF PRESIDENT

Will Be Hayti's Chief Executive Until Parliament Meets—Gen. Fouchard Joins Him.

Port au Prince, Dec. 7.—Quiet prevailed here Sunday, although there were reports of threatening trouble in other towns in Hayti. Gen. Antoine Simon, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, who Saturday entered Port au Prince at the head of an army of about 8,000 men, issued a proclamation to the people and the army in which he assumed the title of chief executive, and declared that he would organize a provisional government, pending the assembling of the parliament. In his proclamation he made an appeal to the wisdom of the nation and the discipline of the army.

At 8 o'clock Sunday morning the Cutan steamer Otter arrived here from Kingston, having on board Gen. Fouchard and 30 other exiles. After lengthy negotiations, Gen. Simon agreed to permit Gen. Fouchard to land, but stated that the others must remain on the steamer.

The two revolutionary leaders remained together for some time at Gen. Simon's headquarters, and after what proved to be a very amicable meeting, Gen. Simon proclaimed Gen. Fouchard chief executive of the army, all the forts and the Haytian gunboats firing a salute of 21 guns. Following this, the Otter's passengers came ashore and were greeted by the firing of musketry.

Advices received here indicate that the situation at Gonaives and St. Marc is grave, the movement in favor of Gen. Antenor Firmin having been greatly strengthened at these places. Gen. Firmin is now on his way to Kingston and will proceed from that port to Hayti. Gen. Kameau, the governor of Gonaives, is hated because of the large number of summary executions he is considered responsible for, and his life is in danger. At St. Marc practically all the authorities, military and civil, with the exception of Gov. Camper, are adherents of Gen. Firmin, and the situation is likely to become critical if Gen. Simon attempts to prevent the landing of Gen. Firmin, who has declared himself a candidate for the presidency.

CYRUS NORTHROP TO RESIGN.

University of Minnesota is to Lose Its President.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 7.—Dr. Cyrus Northrop will retire from the presidency of the University of Minnesota at the close of the present college year. His formal resignation will be presented to the regents next Tuesday. When it becomes effective he will have completed a full quarter century at the head of the university. "I have definitely made up my mind to retire," said Dr. Northrop Saturday night. "I have intended to retire at the end of my twenty-fifth year of service, and that will come with the close of this college year."

Dr. Northrop is 74 years of age. He feels that he is entitled to a rest and he has made a decision which is final and unalterable.

NOVEL TEST IS PLANNED.

Attempt Will Be Made to Resuscitate Electrocuting Man.

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 7.—County Physician Frank G. Seammell announced Sunday that he would make an effort to resuscitate the next man electrocuted in the New Jersey state prison in order to disprove the claim of a New York physician, recently put forth, that electricity does not kill but that electrocuted criminals die under the surgeon's knife in the autopsy or in the quicklime in which they are buried. The next man to be electrocuted is John Mantusana, who is to die during the week of December 21.

Shot Dead by His Brother-in-Law.

Columbus, O., Dec. 7.—Benjamin Turner, constable at Hemlock, O., four miles east of Shawnee, was shot and killed Sunday by his brother-in-law, James Cochran. The latter returned to his home after a few hours' absence and finding the door locked, forced his way in to discover Turner in his wife's presence.

FOR WATER ROUTES

National Rivers and Harbors Congress Will Meet.

GREAT CROWD IS EXPECTED

Four Thousand Delegates Will Be Welcomed by Mr. Fairbanks Wednesday—Ambassadors Bryce and Nabuco and Others to Speak.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Probably 4,000 delegates, from every part of the United States, will be present Wednesday when the National Rivers and Harbors congress opens for its fifth annual convention. "A policy, and not a project," is the battle cry of the organization, and this will be emphasized in all its proceedings.

Cardinal Gibbons will deliver the invocation at the opening session on Wednesday morning, after which Vice-President Fairbanks will welcome the delegates and incidentally speak in behalf of a comprehensive policy for waterway improvement.

Address by Mr. Bryce.

According to a statement given out by officers of the organization, it is expected that President Roosevelt will take a pronounced stand in favor of improving the waterways of the country in his message to congress. At the opening session Ambassador Bryce will deliver an address upon the improvement of water highways on the British Isles, with some reference to the waterway policy of Germany. Ambassador Nabuco will speak of the achievements in developing the rivers and harbors of Brazil.

Canada will be represented by two delegates under appointment of Premier Wilfrid Laurier. Secretaries Garfield and Wilson will represent the president's cabinet; Speaker Cannon, Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, Representative Lloyd of Missouri and Senator Owen of Oklahoma, the legislative branch of the government.

Others Who Will Speak.

Among others who will address the convention are Andrew Carnegie, James W. Van Cleave, president of the National Association of Manufacturers; Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; J. Horace McFarland, president of the National Civic Federation; P. E. Skene, chief engineer of the Erie canal commission; Maj. J. A. Ocker, son of the Mississippi river commission, Capt. Isaac M. Mason of St. Louis, for many years president of the St. Louis & New Orleans Anchor Line and one of the oldest steamboat men living; and James H. Matthews of Memphis, Tenn., who will represent the National Commercial Travelers' association. Half a dozen governors of states also will deliver addresses.

BAD TRAGEDY IN OHIO.

Bank Cashier and Girl Found Asphyxiated in a Hotel.

Columbus, O., Dec. 7.—The bodies of Victor W. Wentz, aged 33, cashier of the First National bank of Canal Dover, O., and Miss Allen Holliger, a stenographer of 355 Marshall avenue, this city, and formerly of Uhrichville, O., were found in the Hollister Inn, a rural resort, east of this city, soon after noon Sunday. Death, according to coroner Murphy, was undoubtedly due to asphyxiation caused by an open gas stove.

Wentz was a native of Canal Dover, where his family is heavily interested in the bank of which he was cashier. He was a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason, Miss Holliger's mother, who is an invalid, was greatly shocked by the news of her daughter's tragic death.

Tennessee Physician Murdered.

Trigun, Tenn., Dec. 7.—A found of years standing is believed to have been responsible for the killing Sunday of Dr. Cullen M. Collange, a physician of this place, who was found mortally wounded lying on the railroad tracks near his home. Sam, Gus and Jeff Moody, brothers, are under arrest charged with the killing, and Lev Jackson is charged with being an accomplice.

Two Killed in Collision.

Amarillo, Tex., Dec. 7.—Two persons were killed, two others were seriously injured and a number were less seriously hurt when a north and south-bound passenger train of the Santa Fe railroad collided near here Sunday. The dead are Ed Maxon of Roswell, N. M., engineer, and J. J. Smith, mail clerk, on south-bound train.

Caught Robbing the Mail.

Dos Moines, Ia., Dec. 7.—James Page, who has been watchman at the Dos Moines post office for 13 years, was arrested on a charge of robbing the mails. Post Office Inspector Calne made the arrest after catching Page in the act of opening a letter.

Vigorously Replies to the Charges of Scandal in Panama Canal Purchase—Implicating Robinson and C. P. Taft—New Yorker's Caustic Answer.

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 7.—President Roosevelt has made a characteristic reply to the charges of "scandal" in the Panama canal deal, in a letter to William Dudley Foulke. Mr. Foulke has made public the correspondence, which follows:

"Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 29, 1908.—The President—Sir: The Indianapolis News, not only during the campaign but even after its close has been repeatedly and continually making serious charges against your administration as well as against Mr. Taft in connection with the Panama purchase, as for example the following:

"The Panama Matter. 'The campaign is over, and the people will have to vote to-morrow without any official knowledge concerning the Panama canal deal. It has been charged that the United States bought from American citizens for $10,000,000 property that cost these citizens only $12,000,000. Mr. Taft was secretary of war at the time the negotiation was closed. There is no doubt that the government paid $10,000,000 for the property. But who got the money? We are not to know. The administration and Mr. Taft do not think it right that the people should know. The president's brother-in-law is involved in the scandal, but he has nothing to say. The candidate's brother has been charged with being a member of the syndicate. He has, it is true, denied it. But he refuses to appear to the evidence, all of which is in the possession of the administration and wholly inaccessible to outsiders. For weeks this scandal has been before the people. The records are in Washington and they are public records. But the people are not to see them—till after election, if then.'"

Mr. Foulke calls for facts. "Even after the election this has been continued, it being said that Mr. Taft's 'weakness' in Indiana (where he ran many thousands ahead of any other I.-Republican candidate) was due in great measure to this alleged 'scandal.' What are the facts in regard to it? Where are these 'inaccessible records'? When did they come into the possession of the government and what do they contain? If the statements of the News are true, our people ought to know it; if not true, they ought to have some just means of estimating what credit should be given in other matters to the journal which thus disseminates falsehoods. Yours.—William Dudley Foulke."

The President's Reply. "White House, Washington, Dec. 1, 1908.—My Dear Mr. Foulke: I have received your letter of the 29th ultimo and have read it in connection with your previous letters inclosing quotations from the Indianapolis News, a paper edited by Mr. Delavan Smith. As Mr. Smith certainly knew that all the statements he made were false, both as to this Panama matter and as to the other matters of which you inclose me clippings, and inasmuch, therefore, as the exposure of the falsity will not affect his future statements, I am not clear what good will result from such exposure. But inasmuch as you evidently earnestly desire some answer to be made, and inasmuch as you say that some reputable people appear to believe the falsehoods of the News and Mr. Smith, and inasmuch as you seem to think that his falsehoods as regards the Panama matter are the most prominent, I will answer them.

Documents Are Accessible. "The News states in one of its issues that probably some of the documents dealing with the matter have been destroyed. This is false. Not one has been destroyed. It states that the last documents were sent over in June of this year, the object of this particular falsehood being, apparently, to connect the matter in some way with the nomination of Mr. Taft. As a matter of fact, the last papers that we have received of any kind were sent over to us in May of 1901, and they have been accessible to every human being who cared to look at them ever since, and are accessible now. Any reputable man within or without congress, Republican or Democrat, has now and always had the opportunity to examine any of these documents. You quote the News as stating that 'the people have no official knowledge concerning the Panama canal deal.' The fact is that the people have the most minute official knowledge; that every important step in the transaction and every important document have been made public in communications to congress and through the daily press and the whole matter has been threshed over in all its details again and again and again. 'The News gives currency to the charge that 'the United States bought from American citizens for $10,000,000 property that cost these citizens only $12,000,000.' The statement is false. 'The United States did not pay a cent of the $10,000,000 to any American citizen. The News says that there is no doubt that the government paid $10,000,000 for the property and continues—but who got the money? We are not to know. The administration and Mr. Taft do not think it right that the people should know.' Really this is so ludicrous as to make one feel a little impatient at having to answer it."

Money Went to French Government. "The fact has been officially published again and again that the government paid $10,000,000 and that it paid this $10,000,000 direct to the French government, getting the receipt of the liquidator appointed by the French government to receive the same. The United States government has not the slightest knowledge as to the particular individuals among whom the French government distributed the sum. This was the business of the French government. The mere supposition that any American received from the French government a 'rake off' is too absurd to be discussed. It is an abominable falsehood, and it is a slander, not against the American government, but against the French government."

"The News continues, saying that 'the president's brother-in-law is involved in the scandal, but he has nothing to say.' The president's brother-in-law was involved in no scandal. Mr. Delavan Smith and the other people who repeated this falsehood lied about the president's brother-in-law; but why the fact that Mr. Smith lied should be held to involve Mr. Robinson in a 'scandal' is difficult to understand. The scandal affects no one but Mr. Smith; and his conduct has been not merely scandalous but infamous. Mr. Robinson had not the slightest connection of any kind, sort or description at any time or under any circumstances with the Panama matter. Neither did Mr. Charles Taft. The News says that Mr. Taft was a member of the 'syndicate.' So far as I know there was no syndicate; there certainly was no syndicate in the United States that to my knowledge had any dealings with the government directly or indirectly; and inasmuch as there was no syndicate, Mr. Taft naturally could not belong to it."

Takes a Whack at Laffan. "Now, my dear Mr. Foulke, I have answered in detail your questions and the statements of the News. You are quite welcome to print my answer; but I must frankly add that I don't think any good will come from doing so. Mr. Delavan Smith is a conspicuous offender against the laws of honesty and truthfulness; but he does not stand alone. He occupies, for instance, the same old position with such men as Mr. Laffan of the New York Sun, editors of whose papers you or others have from time to time called to my attention, just as you have called to my attention these editorials of the Indianapolis News. I never see an editorial in any one of these or similar papers unless for some reason it is sent to me by you or some one else; and of the editorials thus sent me there is hardly one which does not contain some willful and deliberate perversion of the truth."

Mr. Roosevelt then quotes a statement he recently made concerning "false statements" in the Sun relating to the Prairie Oil Company. He further scores the "meddlesomeness" of the newspapers mentioned and of their editors.

Laffan's Caustic Comment. New York, Dec. 7.—Mr. Laffan replies to the president's letter as follows:

"The editor of the Sun presents his compliments to Mr. Roosevelt and acknowledges his active sensibility in respect of the attention which Mr. Roosevelt has been good enough to pay him in his letter to Hon. William Dudley Foulke of Indiana."

"Notwithstanding the directness of his challenge, the editor of the Sun declines a controversy with Mr. Roosevelt. He is by no means indifferent to the implied compliment discernible in Mr. Roosevelt's attitude, but Mr. Roosevelt has shown his frequent collisions with various persons of distinction that he has an overwhelming advantage over any respectable antagonist in his, Mr. Roosevelt's, complete freedom from any sense of personal obligation in respect of the truth. The editor of the Sun is fully alive to the extremity of the inconvenience which attaches to a personal controversy with a man who has shown himself capable of suppression and perversion of individual correspondence, an act which in ordinary life would, in the cognizance of any club or association of self-respecting gentlemen, entail his prompt expulsion."

"In saying those things, we cannot disguise our chagrin and humiliation that the person who is addressed is also the president of the United States."

STEAMER AND CREW LOST. The Clemson with 22 Men Goes Down in Lake Superior.

Duluth, Minn., Dec. 7.—A. B. Wolvin of Duluth, owner of the steamer N. M. Clemson, has abandoned hope and admits that the vessel is probably at the bottom of Lake Superior with her crew of 22. H. C. LIBERTY HALL BAILEY, CHAIRMAN OF FARMERS' COMMISSION.

President Roosevelt recently said that he would rather go down in history as having started a movement to benefit the farmer than anything else he has accomplished.

While the commission appointed last summer with Liberty Hall Bailey, director of the New York State Agricultural college at Cornell university as chairman, has not as yet had time to accomplish much, it is busily engaged getting its bearings. Over half a million circular letters have already been sent throughout the country. They have been addressed to farmers, railway men, country ministers, country doctors, teachers and others who are interested in country life.

Most of the names have been taken from the lists of agricultural colleges, state and national experiment stations, agricultural societies and granges, country papers and farmers' directories.

Already great quantities of mail are pouring into the headquarters at Washington. All of the regular answers to the formal questions that have been asked in our circulars go direct to the census bureau, where they are tabulated. Any letters out of the ordinary, however, relating to special phases of country life or pertaining to some special line of inquiry are sent direct to Chairman Bailey's office. Here they are sorted and sent to the different members of the commission, who have been assigned to special phases of the question. For instance, letters referring to the country church go to one member; those in relation to the cost of farm sanitary conditions to another, and so on.

The present object is to study the problem in the broadest possible way, and then suggest practical means for bettering the conditions on the farm in order to make it more desirable for the bright, ambitious young man.

There is no question but that the farming community is the substantial foundation on which the great American republic rests. Farm life should appeal to the young man instead of driving him away in the city. This is the purpose of the commission, and no more laudable undertaking was ever started.

DR. H. L. RUSSELL AND THE SANATORIUM AT WALES.

Madison, Wis.—Wisconsin has started a campaign to stamp out tuberculosis in this state. Methods for stamping out the plague have been uppermost in the minds of the people for some time, and the state has recently appropriated $250,000 for the establishment of a state hospital to treat indigent tuberculosis patients at Wales, Wis.

This plan was forwarded to Dr. H. L. Russell, dean of the college of agriculture at the state university, who has already spent years in studying the best sanitary methods for ridding his state of the disease. Together with Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the university, they visited the tuberculosis sanatorium in New York, gathered information on the treatment of the disease in Europe, spent time at the Rockefeller hospital and then advised the legislature to establish this institution.

Although in operation but a year, nearly three hundred patients have been admitted, and only one or two were sent home as incurable. The treatment given is, open air, plenty of sleep and lots of milk to drink.

The buildings for the patients are constructed like the verandas of a house. Here the patients, warmly wrapped, read in the daytime or stroll over the fields and here they must sleep, practically in the open air at night. Sometimes the winds blow in upon them, or a snow may sift in, but heavy clothes keep them warm. Dr. Russell, superintendent, thinks if he can once get the patient "growing fat" he stands a good chance to conquer the disease. The patients pay the state a certain amount for their care and treatment, if able, and if not the cost is borne by the county.

But besides the hospital treatment, Dr. Russell and others have formed the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association and have started a campaign of education in the state. Red-cross stamps are held in the state, and the proceeds are devoted to carrying on the educational campaign. Cleanliness and plenty of pure air will do its part to rid the state of the plague, and Wisconsin is attempting to set the standard for which other states can follow.

The Other Way About.

"Don't be afraid," said a mother to her child at the circus, "the lion is stuffed." "Very likely," responded the lad, "but perhaps he could find room for a little boy like me!"

Shows Influence of Mind.

Careful estimates show that the average business man walks a mile in 18½ minutes, while the ordinary idler, who has no business on his mind, requires 20 minutes to walk it.

We are quite willing to tell you what P. & G. Naphtha Soap is made of.

Cocoanut oil is one ingredient. Tallow is another. Naphtha is a third. Caustic soda is a fourth.

Most soap manufacturers think that cocoanut oil is "too good" to be used in making a laundry soap.

Perhaps it is. But as there is nothing else that is "just as good," we use it. Cocoanut oil yields a remarkably profuse suds. It is a wonderful cleanser.

FOUR DROWNED IN LAKE KOSHKONONG
SATURDAY NIGHT

GIRL COMPANION SEES THEM
SINK UNABLE TO AID THEM.

BODIES WERE RECOVERED

Violet and Fannie Blivins Earl Cooper and Harvey Richardson Met Death While Skating on Trenchorous Ice.

Within sight of their agonized companion, who was unable to aid them
in their struggle for life, Violet Blivins, her cousin Fannie Blivins, Earl Cooper and Harvey Richardson, were drowned by the cruel waters of Lake Koshkonong Saturday evening off Tebelon Point.
Two hours later their cold little bodies were taken from the icy waters
and tenderly carried to their homes
where kindness took the place of the gates of a Saturday evening holiday.
It was a merry party of youthful skaters that started from the Tebe-lon shore shortly before six Saturday evening. Harvey Richardson, aged fourteen and Earl Cooper, aged thirteen had driven up to the lake from their home near Newville to skate and had persuaded Violet Blivins, aged thirteen and her cousin Fannie Blivins
aged fourteen to join them.
Mable Brown, aged thirteen, was also of the party and with perfect ice and a brilliant moon peering from beneath the storm clouds they enjoyed their Saturday holiday sport.
A flock of geese was out in the lake attracted their attention and they skated towards them. The two Blivins girls and the boys a trifle ahead of Mable Brown.
The ice on the lake averages two inches but in some places, where springs exist, it is much thinner.
Across one of these thin spots the four went and broke through.
So close behind them was Mable Brown that it was pure accident
she did not fall in and as it was saved herself by dropping onto the ice in such a position her hands and arms were wet with the cold water.
Struggling in the water she could see her little companions and watched their vain endeavors to reach solid ice so that they might drag themselves out.
Unable to aid them, with ice breaking beneath their fingers she could only watch their struggles and bear their last words back to their sorrowing parents and friends. As they said good-bye to her.
Alas the girls as best they could
the two boys fought against death and finally weakened by the cold and unable to aid themselves or their companions, they sank beneath the cold waters, while little Mable Brown homed home to tell of the awful accident. Strong men hastened to the scene, dragging a boat across the ice
to Tebelon Point where in eight feet of water the four little forms were found huddled at the bottom of the cruel lake.
Fred Sherman was among those who brought the bodies to the surface
and helped carry them to their homes.
It was a sad reprieve.
The two Blivins girls live at the Taylor home, Violet is the daughter of Carl Blivins who is in business in Edgerton but whose wife lives at the lake and Fannie her cousin, a daughter of Peter Blivins.
Earl Cooper was the son of Benjamin Cooper who resides near Newville and Harvey Richardson of George who also lives at Newville. The funeral of the Cooper boy will be held Tuesday afternoon at two and Harvey Richardson's funeral will be at ten
in the morning of the same day.
The hour for the funeral of the two Blivins children has not yet been set but will probably be on Tuesday.

Other lot owners
ask for damages
From the Interurban Company For Alleged Deception of Value
of Property by "the Loop."
Encouraged by the victory of Floyd Murdoch and others in litigation over similar grievances, forty owners of property fronting on Franklin, Jackson, Wall, Oak, and West Bluff
streets have retained Attorney Chas.
Pierce and filed a petition with Judge Griffin, asking that a commission be appointed to appraise the damages supposed to have been sustained by their property by reason of the operation of the Interurban line on those thoroughfares. The courts held that the grant to the Holst, Delavan Lake, & Janesville Interurban railway for the loop track in that quarter was not properly made by the common council.
Mr. Boyles, a director of the road,
was in the city Saturday to investigate the situation.

CARRY OFF HONORS
AT THE BIG SHOW

McLay Brothers Awarded Thirty-One
Prizes at the International Stock Show in Chicago.
McLay brothers, with a string of sixteen fine bred Clydesdale horses, carried off thirty-one prizes at the International stock show in Chicago this past week. They were given fourteen firsts, or more than double the number of awards given any other single exhibitor; fourteen exhibitor's blue ribbons, three in the championship class. This included the best mare of any age and was carried off by Ladylike. The best home-bred stallion under three years, and the best home-bred mare. First, in the all mare classes over one year; first and second in the yearling stallion class, and

first and second in the stallion foal class. The show was a remarkable one and exhibitors stated they never saw a finer exhibit of horses in any show. The horses remain in Chicago this week for exhibition purposes at the light harness show now in progress.

ELKS' MEMORIAL
VERY IMPRESSIVE

And There Was a Large Attendance
at the Myers Theatre Yesterday Afternoon.

There was a large attendance at the Elks' annual memorial services at the Myers theatre yesterday afternoon and the impressive and beautiful service, faultlessly conducted, was made memorable by the thoughtful and inspiring utterances of Rev. Father L.
J. Vaughn and Hon. Ogden H. Foth-ers; the appropriate musical numbers which the male quartette, headed by Prof. J. S. Taylor, so excellently rendered; and the quiet rhapsody and warmth of a scenic setting perfectly
in keeping with sentiment of the hour.
"This day and date remind us that we must again pay our mortal debt
to our heavenly Father," said Exalted Cleric C. B. Evans, in opening the ceremonial. The various officers occupied the boxes on either side of the proscenium arch and Secretary H. H.
Baldwin read the roll-call of the departed; Fred J. Prentice who passed away in 1894; Dr. Henry Palmer, 1895; Lord H. Becker, 1896; Isaac C.
Brownell, 1900; Stanley B. Smith, 1906; Frank C. Cook and A. R. Mcomber, 1907; and Fred W. Vande-
water, Oct. 10, 1908. Then the words:
"In vain we call upon them—the places that have known them, know them no more." The quartette sang
"Our Absent One" and the lodge, standing, gave the sign of grief as Rev. Father Vaughn offered the invocation.
"Grief shall hunger no more, neither shall they thirst; and God shall wipe away all tears. There shall be no more sorrow." This was the text of Hon. Ogden H. Fother's address. He spoke of the Elks' desire to soften the hardships of life and elevate and sweeten it by the practice of noble virtues; of immortality and the sure conviction that those who had gone
had merely passed into a larger and fairer field; of the reasons why no ill
is ever spoken of the dead.
Father Vaughn found a theme for the introduction of his eloquent eulogy
in the audience before him, representing every nationality and every creed,
and thought in the vital moments
of life there is something that yearns
to lay aside every difference and clasps hands. Honor, he found, was not something that could be given to or hung onto a man, but a something attached only by conscious effort to pay back to the human race the great debt
which every individual owes to it.
The man worthy of honor is the one who, while climbing the ladder of success dares to pause to give an encouraging word and a helping hand to a weaker brother. The worthy happened to their hearts upon and the faculty were illustrated with a beautiful word-picture of the two little children in search of the river of gold, at the end of the rainbow.
The services closed with questions
by the exalted ruler and responses by the officers; the Lord's prayer; eulogy
by the quartette; and the benediction
by Father Vaughn.

Just As the English Admiral Expected
His Sailors To Do Their Duty
So Does God.

Last evening at the Congregational church, Rev. L. C. Denison, in a sermon, the text of which was that great
message of Isaiah, told how every
man was expected to do his duty because God expected it of him.
Back of every utterance, said Rev.
Denison, that has become great, there
has always been a man who was great. Nothing yet that was of any consequence has ever been spoken
except that the man who spoke was like unto it. There is no eloquence
but the eloquence of the heart and
no man is more eloquent in his speech
than he is in his own life.
In studying the life of Lord Nelson
as told by the historians, we find that he did not quite measure up to the standard of this grand speech of his.
There were some things in his life
that were lacking to make his life as
great as the words which he spoke.
But on the other hand, there were
some phases of his life and fully
measured up to the utterance.
This battle at which these words
were spoken was a decisive one in the world's history for it affected the whole of Europe. It also was the beginning of the Anglo-Saxon supremacy in the world's affairs. Why is it that the Anglo-Saxon is in the forward van of the world's advance?
Why is it that the spirit of the Anglo-
Saxon dominates the events of the world's history? Why did France
lead the world in all things but a few years before this battle? Some
of the causes of the rise of the Anglo-
Saxon race was because of the inherent strength and energy of these people. Some was due to the homeliness of the English. In England and Scotland there is much energy and competence in commercial life, but back
of these the business men have a
strong belief in honest goods and honest methods to make commerce and
effect an honest exchange of goods
and money.
It is true that this supremacy may
be traced to the stability of the character of the Anglo-Saxon peoples. The French people are a sort of Jumi-
matory people whose feelings are on
the surface and who are easily affected and excited. This stability of the Anglo-Saxon often has developed
and action, but they are always a
people, alert and strong.
Back of all these characteristics of
the race is a certain allegiance to
Duty holds no higher place in the
thoughts of a people than in the Anglo-Saxon race, today.
The great victories of Wellington
and Nelson proved turning points
in the world's history. These victories opened the way for new natu-
thought.
In Nelson, we find a man in whose
great victories were the crystallization of the English conscience and
many ways for the supremacy of the Anglo-Saxon sense of duty.
His life was not altogether composed of the best things which a man
can do and there were in it many dark
things. He entered the navy at the age of twelve. In one of the battles
he lost an eye. In one of the battles
in which he took part, the commander
of the fleet in which the boat over-
which he had charge was, flew the
signal from his mast head to cease
firing. Nelson, who was commanding
one of the boats put his telescope to
the blind eye and in that way was not able to read the signal and continued
firing. The effect, when the news of what he had done spread, was to stir
every one on the boats with the im-
pulse of patriotism.
In this great struggle, Nelson declared for England in favor of freedom
against the autocracy of Napoleon.
He was threatening to get control of
all Europe.
No better text from the words of
any famous man can be taken than
these words of Lord Nelson. Some of the best texts of work and duty
come from our daily life.
The development of a sense of duty is the real beginning of life. All real religion begins in a sense of duty.
Duty seems to be the point where man's life touches the eternal. It is where man reaches to God. We do not touch God closest in any of the ceremonies of life but it is, when, in some time in life, you say to yourself, Here
is something which I ought to do.
It is when you acknowledge some eternal duty. The time when you come to the point where you say, "I ought to do this," or "I ought to do that," or
"It is this sense of duty which makes the difference between man and the animals. Man's difference is that there is in him that which whispers to him, "I ought to." Some times animals act so that it seems that they have within them some suggestion of morality. This might be shown in them love of a uterus for her calf and the fierceness with which she fights for its life. Also, we sometimes think that in the other animals
there is the existence of this sense,
especially when the love of the eyes.
There seems to be a suggestion of a moral nature. But there is not in the animal, as there is in man, a process which causes it to say, I ought to do this duty.
The greatest thing in the life of a man or a woman is when they begin to feel that this life is not a question of feelings, and of whims to be satisfied, but is the question of the eternal law of right and wrong.

TO ALL MANKIND

REV. R. C. DENISON PREACHES A SERMON ON DUTY.
GOD EXPECTS OBEDIENCE

His Sailors To Do Their Duty
So Does God.

Last evening at the Congregational
church, Rev. L. C. Denison, in a sermon, the text of which was that great
message of Isaiah, told how every
man was expected to do his duty because God expected it of him.
Back of every utterance, said Rev.
Denison, that has become great, there
has always been a man who was
great. Nothing yet that was of any
consequence has ever been spoken
except that the man who spoke was
like unto it. There is no eloquence
but the eloquence of the heart and
no man is more eloquent in his speech
than he is in his own life.
In studying the life of Lord Nelson
as told by the historians, we find that
he did not quite measure up to the
standard of this grand speech of his.
There were some things in his life
that were lacking to make his life as
great as the words which he spoke.
But on the other hand, there were
measured up to the utterance.
This battle at which these words
were spoken was a decisive one in the
world's history for it affected the
whole of Europe. It also was the
beginning of the Anglo-Saxon supremacy in the world's affairs. Why is it
that the Anglo-Saxon is in the forward van of the world's advance?
Why is it that the spirit of the Anglo-
Saxon dominates the events of the world's history? Why did France
lead the world in all things but a
few years before this battle? Some
of the causes of the rise of the Anglo-
Saxon race was because of the inherent strength and energy of these people. Some was due to the homeliness of
the English. In England and Scot-
land there is much energy and competence in commercial life, but back
of these the business men have a
strong belief in honest goods and honest methods to make commerce and
effect an honest exchange of goods
and money.

It is true that this supremacy may
be traced to the stability of the character of the Anglo-Saxon peoples. The French people are a sort of Jumi-
matory people whose feelings are on
the surface and who are easily affected and excited. This stability of
the Anglo-Saxon often has developed
into a certain sobriety of demeanor
and action, but they are always a
people, alert and strong.
Back of all these characteristics of
the race is a certain allegiance to
duty, a certain loyalty to conscience.
Duty holds no higher place in the
thoughts of a people than in the Anglo-Saxon race, today.
The great victories of Wellington
and Nelson proved turning points
in the world's history. These victories opened the way for new naturalization and opening of the world's
thought.
In Nelson, we find a man in whose
great victories were the crystalliza-
tion of the English conscience and
many ways for the supremacy of the Anglo-Saxon sense of duty.
His life was not altogether composed of the best things which a man
can do and there were in it many dark
things. He entered the navy at the age of twelve. In one of the battles
he lost an eye. In one of the battles
in which he took part, the commander
of the fleet in which the boat over-
which he had charge was, flew the
signal from his mast head to cease
firing. Nelson, who was commanding
one of the boats put his telescope to
able to read the signal and continued
firing. The effect, when the news of
what he had done spread, was to stir
every one on the boats with the im-
pulse of patriotism.
In this great struggle, Nelson declared for England in favor of freedom
against the autocracy of Napoleon.
He was threatening to get control of
all Europe.

any famous man can be taken than

ACTUAL STARVATION

The Smith Drug Co. Give Facts Regarding Dyspepsia.

Although indigestion and dyspepsia
are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their cause and cure. There is no reason why people should not eat anything they desire—if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly. Many actually starve themselves, later sickness
through fear of eating every good-looking, good-smelling and good-tasting food, because it does not agree with them.
Nothing cannot cure dyspepsia. If we refuse every article of food that disagrees with us, before long we have nothing left, and find ourselves
chronic dyspeptics.
We can cure dyspepsia. We use so much of this fact that we guarantee a cure, and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to everyone who will use it, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results which it produces. We exact no promises, and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely, nothing could be fairer.
We are located right here in Janesville, and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness
of our offer.

We want everyone in Janesville who is troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and get a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial, according to directions. They are very pleasant to take; they soothe the irritable stomach, strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, promote a healthy and natural bowel action, immediately relieve nausea and all stomach irritation, produce perfect and healthy digestion and assimilation, and promote nutrition.
A 25c package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets furnishes 15 days' treatment.
In ordinary cases, this is sufficient to produce a cure. In more chronic cases, a longer treatment, of course, is necessary, and depends upon the severity of the trouble. For such cases, we have two larger sizes which sell for 45c and 80c. The Smith Drug Co.

the world has not been brought about by merely drifting. Men have risen and come out of a life such as is led by beasts and in the end their lives have blossomed out into glorious man-

for the attainment of such good. No great or good thing has come to pass

BITS OF HUMOR

A DOUBLE HEADER.

Heen—No you think there'll be exciting times this election?
 Dob—Sure! Aren't we going to have a double bill, two bills for one election?

Clear Down to the Tramp.

"Shall I be glad when this election is over?" repeated the tramp as he pocketed the coin extended to him. "Well, you just bet money I will. It has just about destroyed my business for the next six weeks."

"But how can it affect you?" was asked.

"How? Why, I'm right in it and up against it every hour of the day. You see the first time that has happened me since I was a kid, without asking me how I am going to vote. For that reason I'll tell you that I don't vote at all, but that is on the quiet. You see, in a campaign like this, everybody is a red-hot, and I've got to stay my own gun. If I take a tramp for a tramp, I'm a goner, and vice versa, and the lawyers say, if I take a tramp for a tramp, I get the house, and if I take an independent for a prohibitionist, my away goes my head and bottom."

"But you don't meet with that trouble of business where you call for a hand-out?"

"Oh, don't! That's where the most of the trouble comes in. Let me ring a bell and the cook comes waiting to the door to look me over and demand:

"What, what are you doing here?"

"I'm hungry," say I.

"Hungry, eh? Well, who ate you going to vote for?"

"For Taft," say I.

"Then you can go and eat grass. We have nothing here for Taft men."

"At the next house I will get the same answer if I say I'm going to vote for Bryan, and I tell you it keeps a man guessing. You are probably a Democrat or a Republican, but I've got to be all things to all men, and though I'm a tramp and used to more or less lying this campaign has got into my nerves, and up into the air will go my old cap when the last man is finally elected. If he isn't the best it won't be my fault, and the handouts will come along as before."

INTO THE PRIMITIVE

"And you, Miss Jenny? Girls are supposed to know about cooking."

"I never cooked anything in all my life, Mr. Blake, and it's alive—and I am very thirsty, Mr. Blake!"

"Lord!" commented Blake. "Give me that knife."

Though the blade was so small, the American's hand was strong. After some little haggling, the coryphene was killed and dressed, Blake washed both it and his hands in the pool, and began to cut slices of flesh from the fish's tail.

"We have no fire," Winthrop reminded him, flushing at the word.

"That's true," assented Blake, in a cheerful tone, and he offered Winthrop two of the pieces of raw flesh.

"Here's your breakfast. The trimmed piece is for Miss Leslie."

"But it's raw! Really, I could not think of eating raw fish. Could you, Miss Leslie?"

Miss Leslie shuddered. "Oh, no!—and I'm so thirsty I could not eat anything."

"You bet you can!" replied Blake.

"Both of you take that fish and go to chewing. It's the stuff to ease your thirst while we look for water. Good Lord!—in a week you'll be glad to eat raw snails. Flunkies over clean fish, when you swallow canvas-back all but raw, and beef running blood, and disintegrated animal matter, to put it politely. You couldn't tell rattlesnake broth from chic-on, and dog makes first-rate soup—when you've got to eat it. I've had it straight from them that know that over in France they eat snails and fish-worms. It's all a matter of custom or the style."

"To be sure, the Japanese eat raw fish," admitted Winthrop.

"Yes; and you'd swallow your share of it if you had an invite to a swell dinner in Tokyo. Go on now, both of you. It's no joke, I tell you. You've got to eat, if you expect to get to water before night. Understand? See that headland south? Well, it's 100 to 1 we'll not find water short of there, and if we make it by night, we'll be doing better than I figure from the looks of these boys. Now go to chewing. That's it! That's fine, Miss Jenny!"

Miss Leslie had forced herself to take a nibble of the raw fish. The flavor proved less repulsive than she had expected, and its moisture was so grateful to her parched mouth that she began to eat with eagerness. Not to be outdone, Winthrop promptly followed her lead. Blake had already cut himself a second slice. After he had cut more for his companions, he began to look them over with a closeness that proved embarrassing to Miss Leslie.

"Here's more of the good stuff," he said. "While you're chewing it, we'll sort of take stock. Everybody shall out everything. Here's my outfit—three shillings, half a dozen poker chips, and not another blessed—Say, what's become of that whisky flask? have you seen my flask?"

"Here it is, right beside me, Mr. Blake," answered Miss Leslie. "But it is empty."

"Might be worse! What you got?—whisky, watch? No pocket, I suppose?"

"None; and no watch. Even most of my pins are gone," replied the girl, and she raised her hand to her loosely curled hair.

"Well, hold on to what you've got left. They may come in for fish-hooks. Let's see your shoes."

Miss Leslie slowly thrust a slender little foot just beyond the hem of her dragged white skirt.

"Good Lord!" groaned Blake, "slippers, and high heels at that! How do you expect to walk in those things?"

"I can at least try," replied the girl, with spirit.

"Hobble! Puss 'em over here, Winthrop, my boy."

The slippers were handed over. Blake took one after the other and wrenched off the heel close to its base.

"Now you've at least got a pair of slippers," he said, tossing them back to their owner. "Tie them on tight with a couple of your ribbons, if you don't want to lose them in the mud. Now, Winthrop, what you got beside the knife?"

Winthrop held out a bunch of long flat keys and his cigarette case. He opened the latter and was about to throw away the two remaining cigarettes when Blake grasped his wrist.

"Hold on! even they may come in for something. We'll at least keep them until we need the case."

"And the keys?"

"Make arrow-heads, if we can get fire."

"I've heard of savages making fire by rubbing wood."

"Yes; and we're a long way from being savages—at present. All the show we have is to find some kind of quartz or flint, and the sooner we start to look the better. Got your slippers tied, Miss Jenny?"

"Yes; I think they'll do."

"Think! It's knowing the thing, here, let me look."

The girl shrank back; but Blake stooped and examined first one slipper and then the other. The ribbons about both were tied in dainty bows. Blake jerked them loose and twisted them firmly over and under the slippers and about the girl's slender ankles before knotting the ends.

"There; that's more like. You're not going to a dance," he growled.

He thrust the empty whisky flask into his hip pocket and went back to pass a string of beads through the gills of the coryphene.

"All ready now," he called. "Let's get a move on. Keep my coat closed about your shoulders, Miss Jenny, and keep your shade up, if you don't want a sunstroke."

"Thank you, Blake, I'll see to that," said Winthrop. "I'm going to help Miss Leslie along. I've fastened our two shades together, so that they will answer for both of us."

"How about yourself, Mr. Blake?" inquired the girl. "Do you not find the sun fearfully hot?"

"Sure; but I wet my head in the sea, and here's another source."

As he rose with dripping head from beside the pool he slung the coryphene on his back and started off without further words.

CHAPTER IV.

A Journey in Desolation.

MORNING was well advanced and the sun beat down upon the three with almost overpowering fierceness. The heat would have rendered their thirst unendurable had not Blake hacked off for them bit after bit of the moist coryphene flesh.

In a temperate climate ten miles over firm ground is a pleasant walk for one accustomed to the exercise. Quite a different matter is ten miles across mud-flats, covered with a tangle of reeds and rushes, and frequently dipping into salt marsh and ooze. Therefore they had gone a mile Miss Leslie would have lost her slippers had it not been for Blake's forethought in tying them so securely. Within a little more than three miles the girl's strength began to fail.

"Oh, Blake," called Winthrop, for the American was some yards in the lead, "pull up a bit on that line! We'll have to rest a while, I fancy. Miss Leslie is about pegged."

"What's that?" demanded Blake. "We're not half-way yet!"

Winthrop did not reply. It was all he could do to drag the girl up on the hummock. She sank, half-fainting, upon the dry reeds, and he sat down beside her to protect her with the shade. Blake stared at the miles of swampy flats which yet lay between them and the out-jutting headland of gray rock. The base of the cliff was screened by a belt of trees; but the nearest clump of green did not look more than a mile nearer than the headland.

"Hell!" muttered Blake, despondently. "Not even a short four miles. Mush and saws! girl!"

Though he spoke to himself the others heard him. Miss Leslie flushed and would have risen had not Winthrop put his hand on her arm.

"Could you not go on and bring back a flask of water for Miss Leslie?" he asked. "By that time she will be rested."

"No; I don't fetch back any flasks of water. She's going when I go, or you can come on to suit yourselves."

"Mr. Blake, you won't go and leave me here! If you have a sister—if your mother—"

"She died of drink, and both my sisters did worse."

"My God, must do you mean to say you'll abandon a helpless young girl?"

"Not a bit more helpless than were my sisters when you rich folks guardians of law and order jugged me for the winter 'cause I didn't have a job and turned both girls into the street—onto the street, if you know what that means—one only 16 and the other 17. Talk about helpless young girls—damnation!"

Miss Leslie cringed back as though she had been struck. Blake, however, seemed to have vented his anger in the curse, for when he again spoke there was nothing more than impatience in his tone. "Come on, now; get aboard. Winthrop couldn't lug you a half-mile, and long's it's the only way don't be all day about it. Here, Winthrop, look to the fish."

"But, my dear fellow, I don't quite take your idea, nor does Miss Leslie, I fancy," ventured Winthrop.

COL. HERBERT L. SATTERLEE, THE NEWLY APPOINTED ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE NAVY, AND HIS CHARMING WIFE, THE DAUGHTER OF J. PIERPONT MORGAN

Washington, Dec. 4.—As Truman H. Newberry takes up the duties of secretary of the navy, Col. Herbert L. Satterlee steps into the shoes of Mr. Newberry as assistant secretary of the navy. In this way J. Pierpont Morgan will be indirectly represented in the councils of President Roosevelt, for Col. Satterlee is his son-in-law.

The colonel is a member of a prominent law firm in New York, but is far more widely known through his marriage to Mr. Morgan's eldest daughter, Louise. The wedding, which took place November 15, 1906, was one of the most brilliant and costly affairs that ever took place in New York city. It cost more than half a million dollars were spent in preparation for the wedding, and the presents given by the father to the bride, Mrs. Satterlee, who is to become one of the popular belles of Washington society, traveled a grand deal during her girlhood with her father, visiting kings and queens of Europe and being received at court upon many occasions.

Colonel Satterlee has been interested in naval affairs for many years, and during the war with Spain was connected with the bureau of navigation.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janeville Daily Gazette, Dec. 7, 1868.—Sleighing.—Within the past few days there have been several light falls of snow, making a very good foundation for sleighing. Last night quite a body of snow fell, and although the wind was high there was so much of moisture in the falling flakes that the sleighing was not bad. The result is that the sleighing is very fair, and the merry jingle of sleigh bells is the common music of the street today.

Bridge Destroyed.—The temporary railroad bridge across the Missouri river, at Omaha, which was only completed on the 2d, was swept away by floating ice on the 4th. Four hundred loaded freight cars had been taken across the bridge before its destruction. This is the second temporary bridge that has been destroyed in a like manner.

The Green Bay Advocate says that on Tuesday noon a deer strayed from his native woods and ran through the city from Astor Heights to Eleventh street, and was caught on the bank of East River.

Arizona.—Gov. McCormick delivered his annual message to the Arizona

Legislature, at Tucson, November 16th. He says that the population has increased the past year, and that the taxable property is a third greater than in 1897. No great progress can be made so long as the Apache raids continue. He compliments the regular troops for their bravery; asks additional forces especially of troops familiar with the country, and favors a Southern Pacific Railroad as a means of subjugating hostile Indians and opening up the country. The territorial debt is $20,000, which will be reduced one-third before the close of the year.

Jeff Davis.—In the United States District Court at Richmond, Friday, after argument by counsel, Chief Justice Chase decided that the motion for quashing the indictment against the arch-traitor was well-taken. But Judge Underwood, of that court, disagreeing with the Chief Justice, the division has been certified to the United States Supreme Court at Washington, which, it is feared will sustain the view of the Chief Justice. The ground taken is, that under the Constitution, a man cannot be punished twice for the same offense, and that Davis was punished by the adoption of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution.

The theatregoers and lovers of music will have a genuine treat offered them at the Myers Theatre on Wednesday Dec. 9, when the latest and most successful of all musical comedies—"The Manhattan," will be presented for one night only, direct from a long run in Boston, where the company closed a few days ago, after playing one of the most brilliant engagements of the theatrical season in that city.

The play has the unusual merit of having a distinct plot, dealing throughout the two acts into which it is divided with the fortunes and misfortunes of Timothy Dooley a would-be politician in New York. It is needless to say that such a plot affords unlimited scope for really funny, but not vulgar comedy, and permits of the introduction of some musical gems both for vocalists and chorus, as well as gorgeous costumes and wonderful scenic effects all of which have been supplied by the management regardless of cost. A striking feature of the production is "The Enchanted Cave," a truly wonderful and gorgeous scene which is presented in the second act, in which is shown one of the most lavishly mounted and beautiful stage pictures ever staged in any theatre. All the scenery for this production as well as the costumes which are really beautiful were designed and made specially for this production in New York.

APOLOGY FROM CASTRO IS FRANCE'S DEMAND

Venezuelan President Must Humble Himself or He Can't Land at Bordeaux.

Paris, Dec. 7.—A humble and formal apology must be made to France by President Castro of Venezuela when he arrives at Bordeaux, for the affronts he has put upon this nation. If he refuses this, he will not be permitted to land.

This decision was arrived at by the cabinet at its meeting Saturday, but it was kept a secret for two reasons. First, because it was suspected that Castro would disembark at Santander, Spain, and second, because his physical condition may be such that humanitarian motives might render immediate care at a hospital imperative. But should he arrive at Bordeaux and his illness not be serious, the cabinet has determined that some signal redress must be exacted from the Venezuelan president for his ignominious expulsion of M. Taigny, the French chargé d'affaires, from that country in January, 1906.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

The Gazette cannot accept advertising later than 12:00 M. of the day on which it will appear and guarantee insertion that day. This is imperative for reasons as follows:

This is imperative for reasons as follows:

- Increase in business, especially during the holidays.
- A change in train service which necessitates getting the paper into the mails earlier.
- Complaints from subscribers because of late deliveries in the city.
- Limited facilities. Men and machines have limited capacities and only a certain amount can be accomplished in a given time.

It will be impossible to set up a large ad. or an advertisement containing a great deal of reading matter between noon and the time paper goes to press. Therefore large ads. will have to be in the afternoon before day of publication.

Many of our patrons have accommodated us in the past by getting in their announcements a day or two before they appear and this kindness is highly appreciated.

Daily Thought.

The human heart concerns us more than poring into microscopes, and is larger than can be measured by the pompous figures of the astronomer.—Emerson.

Old Proverb Not Correct.

If ignorance were really bliss, there would be far less misery than there is in the world.

HEAVY RAIN RENEWS PERIL.

Pine Bluff Again Fears Its Courthouse Will Crumble.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Dec. 7.—A continued rainfall, which started Saturday midnight, and the consequent softening of the already crumbling banks, has renewed apprehension here and it is not improbable, should the rain continue, that considerable additional property loss may yet occur, notwithstanding the rapid recession of the Arkansas river.

While the eastern section of the city, the residence section, seems now to be most endangered, the "backs" which protect the wholesale district and county courthouse, considered Saturday to be safe, were impaled to such an extent that they may yet give way, causing the destruction of much valuable property.

Property valued at $25,000 slid into the river Sunday.

CORN EXPOSITION IS READY.

Big National Show Will Open in Omaha Wednesday.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 7.—The National Corn exposition which is to be opened at the Auditorium in this city Wednesday will comprise over 6,000 individual and hundreds of collective exhibits sent from 28 states of the union. The floor space for the exposition will be nearly 250,000 square feet, which exceeds by 50,000 feet the original estimates.

Omaha wishes to retain the exposition for a period of years, at least three or four, and an attempt is being advanced to make this city the permanent home of the national corn exposition, but some states will send delegations favorable to a change.

Georgia Editor's Mistake.

Oliver Fremstad, who has just come from Europe, says the women are wearing monacles over their eyes. It reminds us that the last time we used the word monacle the printer made it mauncle, and we had to hide out for two days.—Atlanta Georgian.
